

Scarecrow, Where Do You Go?

The new book by

Andy Z

It's another magnificent morning in Andyland, and the farmer ventures out to tend to his cornfield. It's there that he finds something out of place, namely Patch, the scarecrow. "Scarecrow, where do you go?", he thinks with his hand to his chin. "And why do you wear that mischievous grin?" Well, only Patch knows, and he'll show the kids, it's the stroke of midnight when the real fun begins!

Based on the song "Scarecrow" by Disney Interactive i Parenting Media Award winning children's singer/songwriter Andy Z, and masterfully illustrated by Woody Miller, "Scarecrow, Where Do You Go?" is the perfect addition to any children's book collection. Whether on Halloween, or the months in between, this story is always in season!
